Thursday

Eight of us arrived, with provisions for the whole twenty, about midnight. Four hiked to the upper cabin Detour Long Trail

Friday

Others & I spent the night at the middle cabin and were awakened by Mr. Bryant offer to get water at 7:30 A.M. and take us and provisions by catapiller and sled to our long awaited destination. Mr. Bryant always seems to be outdoing himself for the comfort and happiness of his guests. He is truly a philanthropist. So wonderful to be in the land of snow once again from a 'tropical' winter' in State College.

There were 21 of us in all - 20 at one time. The last four days slept in the middle cabin and commuted morning and night for two days. We fed twenty people at once by putting seven people in the upper bunk. It really worked quite well. We had two snow storms of about 4" each. The skiing

Feb. 7-10, 1949 First arrival got here about 1800. The rest struggled in for the next 15 hours. They had to nurse Harold's car up the hills. Got the cars up to the logging camp — Hit perfect weather and good skiing. Of course Phil had to get here late. (He skied most people used their sleeping bags but Esther used hers for a pillow (she was cold))

Soft corn snow on our arrival froze in night to firm crust.

Excellent skiing April 5 till after 10 A.M. when clear sky + warm air about 45° turned snow to soft corn, rather sticky. J.W. + A.T. climbed to summit of Bolton Mt. in the afternoon. About 200 yards of bare ground on trail up first south slope; thereafter deep snow. Very mild on top of mountain slow, but easy running coming down. 1½ hours going up; 41 min coming down.

April 6: About 6 inches new snow fell in the night. Temp about  $32^{\circ}$  in the morning, but new snow had blanketed old snow before it froze, and the old snow was still wet corn. Skied to lower half of Heavenly Highway in A.M., very sticky skiing. Hard snow in afternoon, a bit drier snow, with wax on skis had good running on Schniebs trail.

April 7. Thick fog. Temp about  $30^{\circ}$ . Starting down the road homeward bound about 8 A.M. A.F.

19 Nov 55	Bill Lee and G. Shrewsbury spent the weekend here. about 2 inches of snow on the ground with more coming down. That Rider left here was real good (sic!). Bill hasn't shot a deer yet but hopes for good luck tomorrow.	No deer, but the prospects for good skiing still coming down.
